REASONS FOR ALLOWANCE

1. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance. The prior art made of record in the attached form PTO-892 considered to be pertinent to the submitted application.

Inaba, Kiichi et al. W097/056691 teach a dynamic brake device which generates a brake signal, which simultaneously closes all switching devices of either a first group connected in parallel in opposite directions with first diodes or a second group connected in parallel in opposite directions with second diodes. Each phase of the servo-motor is short-circuited to thereby form a closed circuit, power generated by the servo motor at the time of braking is consumed by an internal resistance for dynamic braking.

Von der Heide et al. US # 4,376,261 teach two pulse brushless motor provided with two interleaved sequences of pulses generated at a separated outputs with an interpulse pause to prevent pulse overlapping. The pulses are utilized to switch phases of a single motor powered through stages of full bridge semiconductor inverter. The current pulses alternating in direction prevent short-circuit resulting from a slow-turning-off. For the over-current protection only a half bridge is intermittently blocked by a current regulator when current reaches a predetermined limiting value.

However, none of the prior art teaches or suggests claimed limitations in combination with:

- A first abnormal energizing pattern stored in a first energizing signal output unit;

- A second energizing pattern stored in a first energizing signal output unit;
- Claimed interlock between first and second signal selectors.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
